Mr. Bernal and Ms. Mitchell have been retained to provide factual and expert testimony in this matter on issues related to the expert economic and statistical research study and program recommendation that MGT is producing on behalf of the City of Houston.

Mr. Bernal and Ms. Mitchell have nearly 20 years of direct consulting and quantitative experience analyzing all aspects of racial equity and diversity and inclusion issues. This includes understanding how discrimination and racial equity impacts public sector decisions by applying advanced econometric techniques, such as linear and logistic regressions, for numerous public sector entities from State and Local governments to K-12 institutions. Additionally, they have an extensive background in quantitative analysis of public sector procurements as they relate to minority and women owned businesses, disproportionality, and disparate treatment of individuals throughout the criminal justice system, and racial equity in housing and employment.

Mr. Bernal and Ms. Mitchell are expected to opine that a statistically significant underutilization of certain groups exists in the award of public contracts, and are expected to opine regarding the relationship between the utilization and availability of MWBE and non-MWBE firms. Mr. Bernal and Ms. Mitchell will also testify regarding the methodology utilized by MGT in completing its disparity study, the conclusions set forth in that study, and the evidence underlying those conclusions.

Mr. Bernal's and Ms. Mitchell's testimony and opinions will rely on and be informed by the disparity study MGT is producing on behalf of the City of Houston, once finalized. To the extent Plaintiffs are granted leave to belatedly designate an expert who provides a written report, Mr. Bernal and Ms. Mitchell will respond to that report with a written report, or reports, of their own. Mr. Bernal's CV is attached as Exhibit A. Ms. Mitchell's CV is attached as Exhibit B.

The City reserves the right to call any expert designated by Plaintiffs or called by Plaintiffs at hearing or trial, to the extent Plaintiffs are afforded leave to belatedly designate experts.

The City further reserves the right to solicit testimony from any person identified by any party as a fact witness in this case, which may require such witness to rely upon their specialized knowledge, training, experience, education, or expertise in a particular field or which may be considered opinion testimony. It is expected that such persons and any non-retained persons would provide testimony consistent with any and all records they have generated and/or any testimony or statements provided to any person or party and within the realm of their expertise and training.

The City further reserves the right to supplement this designation, including upon completion and finalization of the MGT disparity study and its adoption by the City. Plaintiffs did not timely designate any experts. To the extent Plaintiffs late-designate or obtain leave to designate expert witnesses, the City specifically reserves the right to designate additional experts and to supplement and/or expand the scope of the opinions of the experts designated herein. The City reserves the right to supplement or amend the information provided in this disclosure.

II. OTHER EXPERTS

The City also designates the following individuals to testify regarding reasonably and necessary attorneys' fees incurred by the City.

Sandy Hellums-Gomez
Ben Stephens
Husch Blackwell LLP
600 Travis St., Suite 2350
Houston, Texas 77002
Telephone: (713) 525-6200

Ms. Hellums-Gomez and Mr. Stephens will offer testimony regarding the reasonable and necessary attorney's fees incurred by the City. Ms. Hellums-Gomez and Mr. Stephens may also offer rebuttal testimony regarding attorney's fee testimony offered by Plaintiff.

Ms. Hellums-Gomez and Mr. Stephens will testify regarding the City's reasonable and necessary attorney's fees incurred in the defense of this matter. Ms. Hellums-Gomez and Mr. Stephens résumés or curricula vitae are available upon request. Their testimony will be based upon her or his training, education, and experience, including her or his experience as an attorney licensed in the State of Texas, and upon the documents, pleadings, and matters related to this proceeding. They may testify regarding the attorney's fees incurred regarding this case. They may also testify regarding (a) any case law, literature, reports, or information they consider to be a reliable authority, and (b) testimony responsive to any other expert witness who provides information about reasonable attorney's fees. It is believed that the facts known to Ms. Hellums-Gomez and Mr. Stephens that relate to or form the basis of their mental impressions and opinions are contained in all of the attorney fee records and invoices and pleadings regarding this case. In forming their mental impressions and opinions, Ms. Hellums-Gomez and Mr. Stephens will also rely on their education and experience.
